Certain That Many Have Perished in New York Disaster.

FERRY BOAT SUNK

Nearly a Thousand People on The Boat When It Went Down.

REPORTS COMING IN

New York, June 15.—It was hoped early this morning that the sinking of the ferry boat Northfield last night would not show a very large loss of life, but this hope was dispelled as the day advanced.

Four persons, three men and one woman, who failed to return to their homes last night are now put down as victims of the disaster. They are:

JERSEY WHITE.
GENERAL C. A. BARTLETT.
JOSE XIKUES.
GRACE SULLIVAN.

Still later the number of the missing increased alarmingly and the hope that the accident was without casualties is dispelled.

The following are added to the list of missing:

F. S. MYER, Commissary Sergeant, U. S. A.
DAVID VAN NARE.
E. G. COLTOR.
JUAN BENNITZ.
F. J. BENNITZ.
A. J. CLARKE.
MRS. VIRA ANDERSON.
JOHN ANDERSON.
GEORGE COOPER.

Divers worked all night on the sunken vessel in a vain search for possible victims and the search will be continued until all doubts are cleared away.

Ferry Boats Collide

New York, June 15.—The wooden side-wheeler, Northfield, which has been in the service of the Staten Island Ferry company for the last thirty-eight years, was rammed last night by the steel-hulled propeller Mauch Chunk, used as a ferry boat by the Central railroad of New Jersey.

The collision occurred just off the Staten Island ferry slip at the foot of Whitehall street and in less than twenty minutes afterward the Northfield, which was crowded with passengers, sank at the outer end of the Spanish line pier in the East River. The Mauch Chunk, which was badly damaged, landed two dozen passengers who were aboard of her.

Over a hundred of the passengers of the sunken Northfield were dragged out of the water by people along shore and the crews of the fleet of river tugs which responded to the ferry boat's call for help.

A SCORE SINK WITH SHIP.

Transport Ingalls Slips from Dock in Brooklyn, and Capsizes.

New York, June 15.—Over a score of lives are believed to have been lost and more than fifty men were injured in an accident to the United States transport Ingalls in the afternoon. The vessel was in the balance dry dock at the Erie basin, South Brooklyn, where she was about to undergo extensive repairs. She suddenly slipped from the blocks and capsized. There were about 240 carpenters, machinists and other laborers at work on the vessel and dock at the time. It is supposed that the vessel was thrown from an even keel by ballast improperly placed, or by the shifting of the blocks on which she rested, causing her to list to starboard, driving the shoring beams through the rotten walls of the old floating dry dock in which she was cradled. Besides the mechanics and other workmen who crowded the vessel and dock, preparing her for a voyage to Manila, there were supposed to have been about thirty Italian laborers in the hold of the ship, employed in shifting the pig iron ballast. While the workmen were trying to escape, the dock itself, overbalanced by the weight of the ship, turned on its side and sank in fifty feet of water.

A number of men were borne down into the water and jammed under the wreckage, which rose to the surface. How many were caught has not yet been learned. Martin Anderson, a painter, was caught under the descending side of the ship and killed outright. Others were dragged out of the water badly injured or half drowned and hurried to the hospitals.

Boy Is Killed in a Runaway

Beloit, Wis., June 15.—A young son of William Baars of the town of Turtle was killed in a runaway accident yesterday. He was sitting on the back end of his father's milk wagon, when the team of another man ran away, striking him and inflicting injuries which proved fatal in a few hours.

MRS. LULU KENNEDY GIVEN TEN YEARS

She Was Convicted of Killing Her Husband Because He Refused to Live with Her.

Kansas City, Mo., June 15.—Mrs. Lulu Kennedy, who killed her husband because he refused to live with her after a marriage which was forced upon him, was found guilty this morning and sentenced to ten years' imprisonment. Both are prominently connected.

GOLD COMES FROM KLONDIKE

First of This Year's Clean-Up—Season's Output to Be $25,000,000.

Seattle, Wash., June 15.—The steamer Dolphin reached Seattle today with the first gold from the Klondike since this season's cleanup. There were nineteen deposits at the assay office aggregating 2,417.84 ounces, valued at $39,685.44. On June 10 the Dawson banks had $7,500,000 in gold dust on deposit. It is estimated that this season's Klondike output will reach $25,000,000.

PLANS TO HONOR BURKE COCKRAN

He Will Deliver an Address Before the Senior Law Class Next Monday Evening.

Madison, Wis., June 15.—One of the chief events of commencement week at the university, which opens with the baccalaureate address by Acting President E. A. Birge this afternoon, will be the address of Burke Cockran, the eminent New York lawyer and political student, before the senior law class on Monday evening. The orator comes at the invitation of the graduating class and will speak in the big gymnasium. The assembly that taxed the capacity of Library hall last year, when the young lawyers were addressed by Justice Brewer of the United States supreme court, necessitated the use this year of the gymnasium, which to judge from present indications will be more than comfortably filled.

The generosity of Mr. Cockran who has notified the law class that he will positively refuse to accept any compensation for his address, will assure him a magnificent audience of students, townspeople and persons from the adjoining cities.

The faculty of the law school, the judges of the supreme and circuit courts and the prominent members of the Madison bar will appear upon the platform. J. E. Davies of Watertown, president of the senior law class will preside and introduce the speaker.

RIFLE BULLET STRUCK HIS CAB

Experience of Patrick Whalen, Engineer on the Mineral Point Division of the St. Paul Road.

Patrick Whalen, the engineer on the Mineral Point passenger which leaves here at 6:40 p. m. had a close call to getting a rifle ball shot into his head while near South Wayne, Wis., last evening. The train was running at the rate of fifty miles an hour and Engineer Whalen was keeping sharp lookout ahead. Suddenly some distance ahead he saw fire spurt out of a gun followed by a report. At the same time a rifle ball struck the heavy oak panel between the two windows at the side of the cab about six inches in front of Engineer Whalen's face. The bullet had come some distance and did not have force enough to imbed itself in the wood but left a deep mark where it struck. If it had been six inches further back it would have struck the engineer in the face.

It was about 8:30 when the shot was fired. It is thought that some fellow shot at the headlight of the engine and miscalculated his distance and the speed of the train.

It is a wild country where the shooting took place and the train was stopped to look for the parties.

WITHDRAWS FRESHMAN CREW

Wont Send the Wisconsin Youngsters to the Poughkeepsie Regatta.

Madison, Wis., June 15.—Wisconsin will not be represented at Poughkeepsie this year by a freshman crew. The form and time in the freshman St. John's race was far from satisfactory to Coach O'Dea, and indicated quite conclusively that the freshmen would have little show against the Pennsylvania and Cornell youngsters. Furthermore, according to Eastern rules, McComb and Hobbins, two of the best men in the boat are debarred from rowing with the freshmen, since they are entered as specialists in their courses, and the rules forbid specialists to row in the class crews.

Dr. E. J. Elton of Kenosha, formerly of this city, was calling on local friends yesterday.

IMMIGRATION POURING WESTWARD; THIS IS RECORD-BREAKING YEAR

Over 20,000 People Have Removed from the Older States and Foreign Countries to the Far Northwest—Pacific Trade of the United States.

Milwaukee, June 15.—Colonel C. W. Mott, immigration agent for the Northern Pacific Railway company, who was in the city yesterday, made some remarkable statements, among the rest being the following:

"This is a record-breaking year in the matter of immigration to the Northwest, over 20,000 people removing from the older states of the United States and foreign countries to the states of Washington, Idaho, Montana, North Dakota and Minnesota, and the year is only half gone. The prospects are that the figure will have to be raised considerably within the next few months."

Mr. Mott is making a study of the world's markets especially those in the far East. "The Pacific Trade of the United States," he said, "has advanced two-thirds in volume during the last five calendar years. American imports of the products of Asia and Oceania have increased 40 per cent since 1894, while American imports to the markets of Asia and Oceania have grown 135 per cent, or multiplied nearly two and one-half times."

"We are taking $18,000,000 of goods a year to the East Indies, as compared with $25,000,000 in 1894. We are taking $16,000,000 of sugar a year from the Hawaiian Islands, as compared with $8,000,000 in 1895. Our annual tea bill with China and Japan now runs to nearly 100,000,000 pounds and our silk bill with these countries reaches $25,000,000 a year, comprising nearly all of our imports of unmanufactured silk."

"We are shipping $18,000,000 of American products to Japan, where we sold only $3,300,000 in 1892, and over $12,000,000 to China, where we shipped $4,500,000 in 1893. Our exports to Hawaii have risen from less than $2,000,000 in 1893 to nearly $7,000,000 now, and our shipments of American wares to Australia have grown in that time from $7,500,000 to $17,500,000 a year. Our Pacific exports of flour have risen in a few years from practically nothing to 2,500,000 barrels, and our sales of cotton goods to the orient have grown from $4,000,000 in 1894 to $15,000,000."

BATAVIA PICNIC NOT A SUCCESS

Mystic Workers Will Bring Their Annual Picnic to Janesville Next Year.

The Mystic Workers' picnic at Laurelwood Park, Batavia, Ill., was not a success. The merchants of Batavia had made arrangements for holding the picnic in the city but the Northwestern railroad company arranged for it at the park on their line about a mile and a half from town.

When the merchants of the city found out what had been done they withdrew their subscription to the picnic fund and made no preparations for feeding the crowd.

The crowd at the park were unable to get anything to eat and had to go to Aurora to get something. The park and the buildings were dirty and ill kept and the society is disgusted at the way in which the picnic was managed.

About twenty-five members of Janesville lodge No. 186 went to the picnic and while there succeeded in securing the picnic for 1902 for Janesville.

The Mystic Workers are connected with the Woodmen who were much pleased with their picnic when held in this city. This fact, influenced the Mystic Workers and Janesville was given the picnic for the next year.

A tug of war between Wisconsin and Illinois was held during the picnic. The Illinois team was no match for Wisconsin who won the match.

OPEN GOLF GAME; ALEX. SMITH LEADS

Only Eight Strokes Between a Dozen Players on First Day—Western Men Up.

Hamilton, Mass., June 15.—Alexander Smith of Chicago leads the field of golf experts as the result of the first day's play in the seventh open golf championship of the United States Golf association, which began on the links of the Myopia Hunt Club here yesterday.

Smith, playing in grand form, made the thirty-six holes in 164, which is two strokes ahead of his nearest competitor, also a Western man, Lawrence Auchterlonie, the clever expert from Glen View club.

Will Smith, open champion in 1899 and younger brother of Alexander is seventh and James Foulis of the Chicago Golf club thirteenth. The intervening places are taken by eastern professionals. On the whole the field is well bunched, for there are no less than a dozen players who are within nine strokes of Smith, the leader. Smith made an eighty-two in each of his rounds. A. G. Lockwood, the Boston amateur, is in eighth place with 171.

Town Is Sold for $200,000.

Louisville, Ky., June 15.—It is said here that the town of Grand Rivers, Ky., which was promoted by eastern capitalists, one of whom was Thomas W. Lawson of Boston, has been transferred by a Boston firm to John W. Harrison and Edward Simmons of St. Louis for $200,000. The promoters years ago are said to have invested $20,000 in the town.

Watertown to Hear Bryan.

Watertown, N. Y., June 15.—William J. Bryan will speak in Watertown June 25, coming here at the invitation of Rev. H. N. Dunning, pastor of the Stone Street Presbyterian church, and formerly of Lincoln, Neb.

G. H. Christman of Brodhead was in the city yesterday on business.

COMMITTS SUICIDE IN A BATHROOM

Louis Weber, a Well Known Neenah Man, Takes His Own Life—Shock to His Friends.

Neenah, Wis., June 15.—Louis Weber, one of the best known contractors in the state, killed himself yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock by shooting himself through the temple with a revolver. Death was instantaneous.

Mr. Weber was about Neenah and Menasha during the day, and arrived at his residence about 4 o'clock. He removed his coat and vest down stairs and telling his wife to have supper early, as he had business in Fond du Lac, he went up stairs. A short time afterwards the pistol shot was heard, and running up stairs Mrs. Weber found her husband dead in the bath room.

Mr. Weber has had charge of many important state and county buildings, besides many churches, depots, school houses, and private residences throughout the state. He was a member of the Catholic order of Foresters, Sons of Herman, and Schuetzen society. He is survived by a wife and family of six children.

CENTER FARMERS GET A LITTLE JOY

Undertook to Get an Experience in High Life—An Adventure with an Automobile.

Last week when the Odd Fellows' convention was being held in Milwaukee they were attended by a number of Odd Fellows from near Center. They had a touch of high life, a dinner at the Pfister and were just on top of the heap. After dinner they walked out of the hotel and near the main entrance saw an automobile. The attendant was in sight of his machine but not in sight of the gentlemen from Center.

One of the crowd a little more gay than the rest thought that it would be smart to get into the auto. He turned around to the rest of the crowd and said, "come on boys we will take a ride" as he said it he climbed into the machine and pulled one of the numerous levers. To his great surprise the machine at once started ahead.

He knew nothing about an auto and was about to jump out and let it go, when the driver who was standing near rushed out, shut the machine off and told the young man from Center what he thought of him in a language more forcible than elegant.

The gentleman from Center explained that he was only fooling, but it safe to say that he will not fool with another auto of that same kind.

It is a wonder some one of the crowd didn't meet some man who would show them where the big explosion on the lake front took place.

WILL FIGHT THE EXCLUSION ACT

Powerful Organization of Chinese to Procure the Repeal of the Geary Law.

New York, June 15.—The Chinese are preparing for an organized fight to obtain the absolute repeal of the Geary exclusion act at the coming session of congress. The movement was started in this city early in the week, and it is expected to spread rapidly to Philadelphia, Chicago, Portland, Seattle, San Francisco, and other cities having large Chinese populations. A powerful organization has been effected among the Chinese merchants of this city.

Within the next two weeks every one of the 15,000 Chinese here will be asked to sign a carefully prepared memorial to the United States government asking that the exclusion will be repealed. The memorial will protest in the strongest possible terms against having the act extended for twenty years from the date of its expiration in 1902. It will be forwarded to the government, along with similar memorials prepared in other cities through Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese Minister at Washington.

ABOUT 25 PEOPLE BADLY INJURED

Chicago, Ill., June 15.—A temporary grandstand built for the purpose of re-viewing the annual field sports of the normal school collapsed this morning while three contests were in progress. About twenty-five persons mostly women and children were injured and some seriously. There were five hundred were in the stand when the accident occurred.

POINTS OUT REAL MISSING LINK

Dr. W. S. Hall of Chicago, Upholds Darwinian Theory.

Evolutionistic Idea of God is Not Antagonistic to Christianity.

STARTLES Y. M. C. A.

Evolutionistic Idea of God is Not Antagonistic to Christianity.

APE, MAN'S BROTHER

Boston, June 15.—Delegates to the Y. M. C. A. convention were given a sensation yesterday when Dr. Winfield S. Hall of Chicago, in an address, supported the Darwinian theory of man's origin. Dr. Hall's address was delivered before the section on physical work, his subject being, "The Necessity for Voluntary Exercises by the Modern City Man."

He took the stand that it was possible for the student of evolution to be even a greater Christian; that the Christian evolutionist's idea of God is not antagonistic to Christianity. Dr. Hall held that any discussion of racial development must be based on the evolution theory.

This theory, he said, is now accepted as a working basis by every biologist and sociologist of repute, though of course, no one contends that the proof of organic evolution in the present form of theory is final and complete. The chain of evidence, he said, is extended, that it is accepted as a working basis of all those scientists who have to deal with the problems of life.

Real Missing Link.

"When we say that man's probable origin was from an apelike progenitor," he said, "it should not come as a shock to anyone who has kept in touch with the trend of modern thought. The progenitors of man were probably not very unlike the anthropoid apes of Asia and Africa."

It is not believed by biologists that the human ape descended from the anthropoid ape as we know him, but that primeval man and the modern anthropoid ape had a common progenitor, now extinct. This is the real missing link which biologists have been looking for.

The progenitors of the human race probably lived in forests and had habits not very unlike those of the chimpanzee. Strong evidence for the belief is found in the physical type of the human infant at birth.

Such a change in habits, Dr. Hall went on to say, would be accompanied by a rapid evolution of the body. Those members of the human race who stood most erect and could carry their bodies farthest and fastest upon their legs, would have a far better chance in their struggle for existence than those which did not have such a capacity. These conditions would then result in a very great strengthening and increase in girth and length of the legs, a widening of the hips and a strengthening of the muscles of the hips and back.

A man in the rear of the auditorium wanted Dr. Hall to tell how it was possible for God to make an ape with a soul or develop a man from a soulless ape, but the doctor did not reply.

An animated discussion followed the address, but Dr. Hall proved equal to the occasion.

TO BE ORDAINED TO PRIESTHOOD

Ensign A. Hemming and Eugene McCarthy both of this city, will be ordained into the priesthood of the Roman Catholic church tomorrow morning at St. Francis seminary, Milwaukee.

They are members of a class of twenty-one theological students on whom Bishop Katzer representing the church, will endow with the solemn duties and privileges of the priesthood. The newly ordained priests will celebrate their first solemn high mass at St. Patrick's church, Ensign Hemming being the celebrant on Tuesday morning at ten o'clock and Eugene McCarthy on Thursday morning at the same hour.

Owing to the fact that Miss Marie McLerman, the organist of St. Patrick's church, went to Milwaukee this morning to attend the ordination services, the 10:30 o'clock service at St. Patrick's tomorrow morning will be low mass instead of high mass as is the custom.

Just Between Ourselves

The trespassing of woman on man's preserves in the business world and in the matter of dress has been the subject for newspaper jokes, minstrel stories, comic songs, and serious comment and discussion. But the bruised worm will turn and at last a spirit of retaliation seems to have been aroused in long suffering man. It has long been the accepted state of affairs for women to fidget and fuss over styles while every radical change that had an element of sense in it had to be preceded by a vigorous campaign before it was accepted. The abandonment of the ugly coiled wire bustles, the substitution of corsets with a natural waist line for those which resembled an hour glass and the adoption of the sensible short skirt for street wear were only accomplished after heated debates and continued perseverance on the part of those who had the courage of their convictions and were willing to make themselves conspicuous in the cause of comfort and common sense.

During all this time man has looked on with a superior sort of contempt. He regarded weak femininity with a supreme pity. When he wanted anything he went and bought it without any fuss. He didn't care whether it was in style or not if it was only comfortable. If he liked a thing he'd wear it if no one else in the town did and he wouldn't be a month of Sundays making up his mind either.

Well times have changed since then and man seems to be exercising the prerogative that has always been supposed to belong to woman, by preceding a sensible dress reform with a war of words. If you don't believe it, think of the shirt waist man. He appeared on the horizon last summer and though few samples have been seen everyone has heard of him. He has occupied a prominent position and he has suffered the experience of all new ventures. All of the criticisms which have found public expression have been adverse. It is stated on good authority that much of it has originated with the shirt manufacturers who are more or less afraid of the shirt waist man and who are merely whistling to keep up their courage when they assert that he will not be in this summer.

"You see it is this way," confessed one frank shirt maker. "We don't want the shirt waist. It would be a nuisance to us. We have to keep so many styles of shirts in stock now that we can hardly handle them; and if the shirt waist should come in as a serious proposition, it would mean almost doubling our stock. We really can't do it, you know."

"We don't believe that men are going to take up with the idea seriously, though things do look threatening."

"You see in the first place, not one man in a hundred has the shape for a shirt waist. No man really has it for that matter. A shirt waist demands a waist line and a snug belt, if it is to be graceful. It needs to be buttoned down, pinned down, anchored down. Even then, any man who wasn't slim would look like a fool in it."

"There's the only one of the things that looks like a gentleman's shirt. You see it is only an ordinary soft front negligee shirt. It hasn't any yoke in the back, but fits loosely and plainly and the little fullness that appears below the shoulder blades is caught into a band. It is a good negligee shirt with a waistband."

"It looks like any negligee shirt when it is on, but it stays down better. It's a good thing to have one button and buttonhole in the back. I mean to have one buttonhole on the waist and a buttonhole in the trousers. A belt will not do the work on the average man, even if he ruins his internal mechanism by wearing the belt too tight."

"The shirt waist skirt is cut off, but that isn't necessary. I'd prefer that usual skirt length. So would any man. He'd be mortally afraid this thing would pull out."

"There's another waist with a plain straight yoke in the back and the body of the shirt pulled on a little bit at the bottom of the yoke; but I don't consider that a success. It makes a fellow look hunchback. Then this one with the yoke and the pleated back stays down all right, but it looks too much like a small boy's waist, or a woman's shirt waist."

"No; the negligee shirt, with a plain back and a waistband is the only masculine looking shirt waist. I believe it is the only one that will have a show."

"Men didn't go around in their shirt sleeves last summer because they wanted a reform in dress. They did it because they were so blamed hot they didn't care how they looked. If we have more of such weather the men will do the same thing again, but if the mercury behaves decently they will stick to their coats, as they always have."

"A hot, shapeless man doesn't look well in any thin, clinging garment and never will. He won't wear one except in desperation, and then he doesn't much care whether it's a shirt waist or a shirt."

Notwithstanding this eminent and certainly interested authority it is the humble opinion of a woman it is the coatless man will continue to find favor in hot weather. I have always smiled secretly at man's boast of comfort above all things when I have seen him sweltering in a heavy coat on a hot July day. The only fault I have to find with the new fashion is the name that has been tacked onto it, evidently with the hope of killing it. "Shirt waist" is too suggestive of the days of childhood or feminine apparel to find favor with the masculine fraternity. The name "rainy day" skirt and extreme styles in its construction came near being the death of that convenient article of wearing apparel which the business woman of today blesses under the name of her walking skirt or short skirt. Thus the man's shirt waist may undergo a change of name and slight changes in its make-up, but in the interests of human comfort it is to be hoped that it will not die in the process.

It seems hardly necessary to the inferior feminine mind to give it a distinctive name in order to make its wearing without a coat proper. It would hardly seem to make a shirt less a shirt because it was so constructed that it could be fastened securely down to the trousers or that the suspenders could be worn underneath it instead of on the outside. It hardly seems a valid argument against him to say that a few men look well without a coat. There are men who do not look well in a coat and there are women who do not look neat in a shirt waist but that is no fault of the style. As the shirt maker, who has been quoted above, says, men will not wear their coats in hot weather. Consequently it is the wisest thing to endorse it and make the habit a strictly proper one. If he is going to leave off his coat any way why should he be made to do so in defiance of the laws of propriety and etiquette?

The hotel man who refuses entrance to his dining room to a man who is neatly and decently clad in a garment intended to be worn without a coat is overstepping his province. It would be rather interesting if some man with the courage of his convictions would make a legal test of the case. There would be just as much reason in compelling a woman to put on the jacket of her tailor made—a little more sometimes in these days of transparent lace and muslin. Time was, and that within the memory of living people, when it was considered indecent and improper for a woman to be seen on the streets without a shawl or some other outer wrap over her shoulders. Ye Gods! What a change! Time will be if the shirt waist man (for want of a better name) continues to hold his own, when the hotel keeper, slave of custom though he may be today, will cater to his patronage. The hot weather coatless man is a sensible rational being. Here's to him. Long may he prosper. L. F. B.

SMALL DOG CAUSES BIG EXCITEMENT

A small dog belonging to Mrs. C. E. Jenkins created quite a little excitement about seven o'clock this morning at the corner of East Milwaukee and Main streets by rolling about on the ground and snapping at everything that came near him.

William Harter, foreman for the Wisconsin Telephone company, secured a rope and lassoed the animal before it had a chance to bite any one. Every time an attempt was made to move him he set up a howl that could be heard for blocks. Mrs. Jenkins finally came to where he was lying and succeeded after a good deal of hard work in getting it to her flat. The dog acted as if it had a touch of poison and it appeared to be in great agony.

Unnecessary Loss of Time.

Mr. W. S. Whedon, Cashier of the First National Bank of Winterset, Iowa, in a recent letter gives some experience with a carpenter in his employ that will be of value to other mechanics. He says: "I had a carpenter working for me who was obliged to stop work for several days on account of being troubled with diarrhoea. I mentioned to him that I had been similarly troubled that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy had cured me. He bought a bottle of it from the drugstore here and informed me that one dose cured him, and he is again at work. For sale by People's Drug Co., and King's Pharmacy."

Train Instantly Kills Four.

Captain Noted Moonshiner.

Hopkinsville, Ky., June 15.—Deputy U. S. Collector Aruby, Deputy United States Marshal Yontz and Officer Newman surprised Leroy Regar, a noted moonshiner, at work in his still early today in West Todd and captured him at the point of revolvers. They burned the still.

Sixteen Girls Are Poisoned.

Clinton, Ia., June 15.—Sixteen young girls who were poisoned by ice cream at a social dinner at St. Patrick's church are lying dangerously ill and it is thought some will die. Nearly all are unconscious. Several physicians have been summoned.

If a Woman

wants to put out a fire she doesn't heap on oil and wood. She throws on water, knowing that water quenches fire. When a woman wants to get well from diseases peculiar to her sex, she should not add fuel to the fire already burning her life away. She should not take worthless drugs and potions composed of harmful narcotics and opiates. They do not check the disease—they do not cure it—they simply add fuel to the fire.

Bradfield's Female Regulator should be taken by every woman or girl who has the slightest suspicion of any of the ailments which afflict women. They will simply be wasting time until they take it. The Regulator is a purifying, strengthening tonic, which gets at the roots of the disease and cures the cause. It does not drug the pain, it eradicates it. It stops the flow of the womb, leucorrhoea, inflammation and periodical suffering, irregular, scanty or painful menstruation and by doing all this drives away the hundred and one aches and pains which drain health and beauty, happiness and good temper from many a woman's life. It is the one remedy above all others which every woman should know about and use.

REMINISCENCES BY HOWARD KYLE; JANESVILLE BOY ON THE STAGE

Tells of His Experience Here as a Child Many Years Ago—Visited by an Aunt He Had Not Seen for Nineteen Years.

Howard Kyle, the talented actor, whose production of "Nathan Hale" so thoroughly delighted a small audience at the Myers Grand last evening, was a pleasant caller at the Gazette office yesterday afternoon. He is as charming in his own personality as he is in the young patriot hero, having none of that standoffishness, that conservative tolerance with which some members of the dramatic profession are accustomed to surround themselves in order to impress their greatness on the common herd of humanity.

On the contrary, Mr. Kyle is genial and companionable, having an ever-ready and seemingly inexhaustible fund of information for making interesting conversation, gained by extensive travel and keen observation, and also possessing the happy quality of self-possession and the art of establishing a friendly, at home feeling between himself and stranger at once.

Mr. Kyle is a relative of the blind organist, J. W. Bischoff, and he made his professional debut in this city, Miss Minerva Guernsey being a member of the same company. When a boy ten or eleven years old he made his home here although the time was so short, only six months, that, as Mr. Kyle himself puts it, he can scarcely lay claim to being a Janesville boy but was rather a bird of passage who rested here for a brief time.

Nevertheless Mr. Kyle's mind was well stocked with reminiscences and he chatted pleasantly of the people whom he knew here several years ago. "Strange how those things come back," he said, "I thought I had forgotten all about Janesville yet the sight of it, in spite of the many changes, brings scenes of childhood back as fresh as ever."

"Do you happen to know a family by the name of Addy here? There was the mother, and three sons, Thomas and Emmett and—well the name of the third has escaped me just now. And is the old lady living yet? Well, well, bless her soul, she was gray-haired when I knew her. And she still lives in the same place, back of the old cotton mill? Well, well, I must take a walk over there presently."

"And is there a man here still by the name of Denniston, Jim Denniston I think they called him. He kept a bakery up on Milwaukee—avenue is it? Oh yes, Milwaukee street. And he is here yet? My! my how it all comes back. I can see him in my mind just as plainly as though he stood here."

"There is a funny thing connected with him in my memory—this is not for publication, mind you—but when my mother and I came here, my father had recently died suddenly and while he had left her with some means she hardly knew what to do. I felt that I ought to do something to help and through Mrs. Addy received a place in Denniston's bakery at $2 a week. Everything went lovely until one day Mr. Denniston asked me to go up to the house and tend baby. I had the usual sensitiveness of a boy of eleven years and I rebelled."

"No two dollars a week could give any one the right to make a nurse maid of me. I was willing to work in the store, but I drew the line at tending baby. The upshot of the matter was that Mr. Denniston discharged me and I went home with fear and trembling, wondering what my mother would say and afraid that I had done wrong. Mother understood me, however, and told me that she thought I was right, so I was comforted."

In speaking of Prof. Bischoff for whom Mr. Kyle has the greatest admiration and esteem, the actor told a story which will have a personal interest for Mr. Bischoff's many friends in this city. "During the National Grand Army Encampment at Washington in October of '92," said Mr. Kyle, "I was playing an engagement at one of the Washington theatres and was making my home with Prof.

Bischoff. You were there at that time? Well, then you will remember how many brass bands and drum corps there were in that city and how they would seem to spring up from any where with their shrill playing."

"On Sunday there was to be a special service for army chaplains at Prof. Bischoff's church and he had prepared a very fine musical program. He especially desired me to hear the opening music and told me to sit in, his private study where I could see and hear and could slip out before the regular service if I so desired, as I was unusually tired. I did so and was permitted to see one of the most thrilling and remarkable scenes I ever witnessed."

"Prof. Bischoff, who as you know is a marvelous organist, was holding the magnificent audience entranced with the 'Pilgrims Chorus' and was just in one of the most exquisite parts when one of those inevitable omnipresent brass bands seemed to spring up out of the street by the side of the church, playing at full blast, 'John Brown's Body'."

You can imagine something of the effect. It was a sudden plunge from the sublime to the ridiculous and it grated fearfully but Bischoff never stopped playing. He was master even of that trying occasion. His hands went out nervous, several stops were pulled out and before the audience realized what was happening that grand organ was peeling forth 'John Brown's Body' with solemn majesty and power."

"Bischoff's sensitive ear had caught the exact key in which the band was playing and his quick intuition made it possible for him to turn the ludicrous situation into a wonderful triumph. He played the band out of sight and the music of the organ was no more inspiring than was the music of appreciation and approval which came from that audience which applauded like one man."

"One bluff old army chaplain voiced the sentiment of the great audience when after the service he clasped Bischoff's hand and with tears in his eyes said: 'I've seen many grand things in my day, but that was the grandest experience I have ever known.'"

Mr. Kyle is a Wisconsin boy and was born at Shullsburg. By the way, he was christened Kyle Vandergrift but when he went on the stage he found his own surname cumbersome so he prefixed his Christian name with his father's, making the name, Howard Kyle."

Last evening a theatre party from Shullsburg attended the performance of "Nathan Hale" out of compliment to Mr. Kyle and the genuine desire of seeing him play, it being the first opportunity that any of them had ever enjoyed of seeing him on the stage. The party included Mr. and Mrs. Perry Williams, Mrs. John Stevens, Mrs. J. F. Nash, Mrs. Samuel Rickert, Miss Belle Rickert and Miss Clara E. Osborne. The ladies of the party sent Mr. Kyle a beautiful box of red roses which he appreciated very deeply."

Mrs. Stevens, one of the members of the party is Mr. Kyle's aunt whom he had not seen for nineteen years. She is a strict member of the Methodist Episcopal church and had never been inside a theatre before. After the performance when one of the party asked her candidly how she liked it she said reluctantly and hesitatingly "Why it was all right, but I don't think I'd like to see a daughter of mine up there."

Mr. Kyle and his company close the season at Elgin tonight, it being a return date. The company will then go to New York and in two weeks will play a special engagement of one week at Atlantic City in a magnificent theatre over the ocean. The company left this city on the 10:10 train this morning. Mr. Kyle's admirers hope that he will return another season to find a warmer welcome awaiting him.

WOODEN KINGS FOR TARGETS

Anarchists Will Shoot at Dummy Dancers on Long Island.

New York, June 15.—The World says: Wooden dummies wearing metal chest protectors and representing the crowned despots of Europe are to be set up in Liberty park, Ridgewood, L. I., next Sunday, for anarchists to shoot at. This occasion will be the grand annual love feast of the anarchists of Greater New York. Johann Most will be marshal, chief patron and honored guest. The anarchists a year ago passed resolutions declaring that the war which they made upon capital and power had not met with success. So they organized themselves into a rifle club and bought the wooden dummies. Because of their fear of the police, the anarchists refuse to admit that the dummies represent any one. They say they are anonymous dummies, but it is understood that Edward VII, William II, Nicholas II and Victor Emmanuel are caricatured.

Prisoner Attacks a Judge.
Chatham, Ont., June 15.—Andrew Epperson, who has been found guilty by a jury of a charge of stabbing his paramour, Ida Allison, made an attempt to kill Judge Bell in the county court here. During the preliminaries, before proceeding with the next case after Epperson had been remanded for sentence, Epperson made a dash from the prisoners' dock toward Judge Bell, in front of whom were lying the razor and knives used as exhibits in the case. Epperson grabbed the razor and rushed at the judge. Court attendants stopped him and he was overpowered only after a hard fight.

Congratulated by McKinley.
Cleveland, O., June 15.—The following telegram was received yesterday by the Western Reserve university trustees from Washington:

"I have been very much interested to learn that the university at its commencement this year will celebrate the 75th anniversary of its foundation. Please express to the officers and students my hearty congratulations and cordial good wishes for its continued prosperity and growth and accept my appreciation and thanks for the university's kind message."

"WILLIAM MCKINLEY."

You may as well expect to run a steam engine as to find an active, energetic man with a torpid liver and you may know that his liver is torpid when he does not relish his food or feels dull and languid after eating, often has headache and sometimes dizziness. A few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will restore his liver to its normal functions, renew his vitality, improve his digestion and make him feel like a new man. Price, 25 cents. Samples free at People's Drug store and King's Pharmacy.

A severe sprain will usually disable the injured person for three or four weeks. Many cases have occurred however, in which a cure has been effected in less than one week by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm. For Sale by People's Drug Co., and King's Pharmacy.

Appointments by the President.
Washington, June 15.—The president made the following appointments: Charles W. Raymond, Illinois, judge in the Indian Territory; Solomon F. Stahl, Arkansas, marshal western district of Arkansas; Charles P. Hitch, Illinois, marshal southern district of Illinois; Creighton M. Foraker, New Mexico, marshal territory of New Mexico; Morris D. Wickersham, Alabama, attorney southern district of Alabama.

Irwin Beats Denny.
Portland, Ore., June 15.—Toby Irwin of San Francisco was given the decision over Martin Denny of Australia in the twentieth round at the Pastime club. For fifteen rounds Denny clinched repeatedly to save himself from being knocked out.

Mr. Kyle and his company close the season at Elgin tonight, it being a return date. The company will then go to New York and in two weeks will play a special engagement of one week at Atlantic City in a magnificent theatre over the ocean. The company left this city on the 10:10 train this morning. Mr. Kyle's admirers hope that he will return another season to find a warmer welcome awaiting him.

In Janesville

Every Claim is Backed by Local Testimony.

If the reader wants anything stronger than opinions and experiences of his neighbors, what can it be?

Mr. L. Lawrence, of 408 S. Franklin St., engineer at the Janesville Electric Light Co., says:

"Seven years ago I injured my back by falling through a bridge near Afton, into the Rock river. I was on a traction engine, its weight broke through, and the whole thing went into the stream. Since that time my back has ached by spells, sometimes very severely. If I caught cold it settled in my kidneys and if I brought a strain on my back lifting, the result was a bad backache and sharp twinges of pain in my loins. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills and after I used them I was free from backache. I am in better health than at any time since falling through the bridge."

For sale by all dealers, Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for U. S. Also on sale at King's Pharmacy.

HUMAN KINDLINESS.

"I'm so sorry for Mark, because he hasn't any home."

"The speaker was a little fair faced blind girl, who had known no home, but a state home for ten years."

Mark, not only blind, but crippled, had never known a home. Left as a waif to the kindly ministrations of an orphanage and coming up through babyhood to boyhood and out to the state school, his only home was the poor house of a neighboring county.

The little girl liked Mark, as did everybody who knew him, because of his sturdy character and brave heart, and when she found that he had no home but the poor house, her sympathy went out to him in generous measure. And yet the little girl was just as dependent. A touch of human kindness that is both beautiful and pathetic.

This world is all too crowded with people who through misfortune or inheritance, have a claim on human sympathy and whose appeals are not always recognized.

It is so easy to say that "God cares for the sparrow, and that His great love and watchfulness can never neglect or overlook the weakest of His creatures," and it is so easy to shirk responsibility and say "Why should I be interested, let his friends take care of him," that the poor and unfortunate are all too frequently neglected through lack of human kindness.

Mark, the lame boy whose eyes never opened to the beauties of nature, and yet whose strong, brave heart beats with hope and anticipation, looks out into life with many forebodings.

It is pleasant for him to have the sympathy of the little girl whose life is also clouded in gloom, but the boy and the girl, like many others, whose lives are so badly handicapped by physical misfortune, that the struggle for existence is an unequal struggle, where the only gateway that stands open is the one that leads to the poorhouse, are entitled to more practical sympathy than the simple "God bless you, I'm sorry for you."

These children belong to a class that nobody wants to adopt, and so they drift out into life only to add to an experience already bitter, the more bitter experience of bitter expediency.

As Christian civilization advances, people are coming more and more to recognize the fact that while God creates and governs, that much of His work is delegated to human hands inspired by willing and loving hearts. That practical piety means more than prayer and song and that the great brotherhood of the human family is not only universal, but that it should be so closely united in the bonds of human sympathy that the waif of every age and description should share in love and helpful protection.

The man or woman that serves God the best is the man or woman that serves humanity best. It isn't the long prayer or Sunday gown alone but it is working in the vineyard and searching in the highways and byways of life for opportunities that the Master never failed to find in the little Judean territory so many years ago.

He never wasted any time in telling what he was going to do, never advertised His coming or said much about His plans and purposes, but "He went about doing good," leaving an example and a record of helpfulness that the world has never equalled or more than half appreciated.

Christian people like to listen to His words of council and wisdom as He proclaims them from the mount. They like to tarry at the cross, and drop a tear at the tomb, but many times they are slow to follow Him in the everyday work of life, forgetting that out of the drudgery and sacrifice is wrought a character that is as enduring as time itself.

It was possible for the master 2,000 years ago, in the three short years of his migration, to touch a few blind eyes and open them to the sunlight, to untie a few deaf ears, and let in the world's melody. To stand at the tomb of Lazarus, and by the bier of the widows' Son, and comfort mourning hearts, by restoring loved ones, but the mission was brief and the field limited.

While it is not possible for human hands to possess His mighty touch, or human tongues to speak His life restoring words in miraculous ways, it is possible today, all over Christendom, to follow His unique life in many ways of practical helpfulness. It is not only possible to do this, but it is a privilege of the highest honor.

The spirit of human kindness is inspired by a touch of the Master, and when fully appreciated and more universally recognized, the waifs of society will be more difficult to discover, because some stronger life has taken them up in closer relations than a common brotherhood, which is too often only a title.

STRIKES AND BLACK LISTS.

Many of our partially completed war ships can not be completed in contract time, because of the machinists' strike, while many industries are crippled in a time of record breaking prosperity, by reason of the same strike.

Judge Waterman recently gave a decision as to strikes and blacklists which is attracting attention because of its sound logic. If either a strike or a blacklist is justifiable under law, the other certainly must be; they are one and the same thing. The blacklist is a strike against the laborer. The element of combination enters into both cases. Although there is no law against the formation of combinations, there are laws which will reach those responsible for the resulting excesses of their conspiracies. The strike differs from the blacklist in that intimidation enters into the one and not into the other. There are many laborers who are willing to work during a strike but who do not dare, or who are forcibly prevented by the strikers. In the case of a blacklist each manufacturer is independent of the other, and the blacklist rarely affects this neighbor. Public sympathy has been alienated because of the unlawful conflict between the strikers and the law. The layman will agree with the court that the right not to employ is as just as the right not to work.

SNOBBERY.

England has her Astor, and America now has her Vanderbilt. "Idle Hour," Mr. Vanderbilt's summer home, is being surrounded by a sanctity which is intended to shield it from the vulgar public. The plans and photographs have been copyrighted, so that not only will Mr. Vanderbilt prevent any one having a similar home, but even of possessing a picture of it. It is all right to protect a home from curious intrusion, but when so many precautions are taken, it shows a degree of exclusiveness and snobbery not relished by Americans. There are many Americans who own just as fine homes and grounds as "Idle Hour," who are generous enough to allow others the pleasure of a visit and a stroll on certain days; and it adds to their own enjoyment, to realize that others are enjoying to some degree, their pleasure.

It is not to the discredit of a High school graduate that he has the ability and inclination to write a thesis on scientific subjects; but it is greatly to his credit and interests to be able to use the English language correctly, and also to be able to perform the processes of addition and multiplication properly.

LEWIS HERRING PROPERTY SOLD

Dudley, for $2,225. The principal bidders were A. E. Tanberg, J. L. Bear, Otto Kneip, E. Rentschler and E. H. Dudley. The bidding started at $800 and was quite spirited. Mr. Rentschler bidding $2,220. The property includes one and one half lots and two small frame houses. As the former owner, Lewis Herring, who died about a year ago, left no heirs, the proceeds of the sale of his property will go to the city school fund.

There was quite a little excitement on two of the street cars yesterday afternoon about five o'clock when lightning out of a sunny sky struck the wire and followed it, burning out the light circuits on cars number six and ten. ## THEATRICAL NOTES.

Hortense and Marie Nielsen are sisters of the great opera singer, Alice Nielsen, who is now filling an engagement in London, England.

The Nielsen Sisters' company is not in any way a cheap repertoire organization. Every player is a recognized actor of merit. The cheap prices are for the heated season only. This same company opens at Chicago September 8th with "Under Two Flags," which will be the opening performance at Myers Grand on Monday evening. Most of the costumes worn by the Misses Nielsen were made by Worth of Paris and are valued at $10,000. One dress worn by Marie Nielsen in the "Child of the Regiment" cost over $800. On Wednesday evening the performance of "Young Mrs. Winthrop" will be given. The management pay a royalty on each production of this play. J. H. Lewis, who is one of the players, was Maggie Mitchell's stage manager and took the same part in her production of the Pearl of Savoy as he now takes with the Nielsen company's rendition of this play.

HORTENSE NEILSEN.

All the elements of a strong play, are to be found within "Nathan Hale," an inspiring Colonial play, which was presented last night at the Myers Grand.

Nathan Hale is a hero familiar to every lover of American colonial history. It was he who made the historical remark, when about to be executed by the British as a spy: "I regret that I have but one life to lose for my country." The play of Nathan Hale was written by Clyde Fitch, one of the foremost American playwrights. The play in time found its way into the hands of Howard Kyle, who is making a splendid reputation in it, and very justly so. The play is an object lesson in patriotism, at a time when to show patriotism meant danger. It is a play to make men's hearts swell with pride.

The scene opens in 1775, in the New London grammar school, Connecticut. It is one of the most charming scenes of the play. It is here that Nathan Hale, the school teacher, commences his love story, by wooing Alice Adams, one of his charming pupils. In this scene Hale defies a British officer, who desires to use the school room for a tory meeting, and from which altercation momentous events follow. Hale gives up his school, after becoming affianced to Alice Adams. He goes into the army, and during the next two years is frequently commended by Gen. Washington and other gallant soldiers for his heroic exploits. In 1776, Col. Knowlton, of the Colonial troops, calls a consultation of officers in his house, and asks for a volunteer to penetrate the British lines on Long Island and ascertain the plans of the invading army. Hale volunteers and the most thrilling of the scenes takes place after Hale is within the British lines.

He is recognized by Lieut. Fitzroy, the British officer whom he had defied in the school house. There is a particularly strong scene in this act, in which Fitzroy, still in doubt as to Hale's identity, attempts to make the suspected spy betray himself. There is something of melodrama in the succeeding acts, but it is perfectly excusable, when the nature of the theme is taken into consideration. It is certainly not a mawkish or sentimental form of melodrama.

Mr. Kyle gives a strong presentation of the central character, Nathan Hale. There is inspiration in the scene in which he volunteers to enter the lines of the enemy. It is a scene in which duty conflicts with love, for Hale had but a few moments before promised his fiancée he would take no unnecessary risks. In the character of Alice Adams there was not the ideal patriotism which was the fibre of Hale's make-up. While the playwright did not make Alice an ideal creature in this respect, he made her a perfectly natural one.

Instead of inspiring him on to the achievement of a rare and noble purpose, Alice attempts to hold him to his promise. The decision made by Hale becomes still more inspiring by contrast, but it detracts from the idealism in which the audience previously holds Alice. One likes to see the woman as ideally patriotic as the man, but in this instance Alice thinks more of her own happiness than of her country's weal.

The foregoing has to do with the lines of the play, and not the interpretation of them by Jessie Izzet, a young woman who has all the personal charm and grace which characterized the maids of the colonial period. In her love scenes and moments of coquetry, Miss Izzet is clever. Her strongest scene was that in which Lieut. Fitzroy tries to trap her into recognizing the prisoner Hale, and thus confirming his suspicions as to Hale's identity.

The balance of the cast is well adapted to the parts assigned. Worth of all commendation are Alice Proctor, Antoinette Walker, Josie Sisson, Howard Russell, Frederick Webber and George A. D. Johnson.

JANESVILLE LADY DESCRIBES DENVER

Beauties on the Trip Across Colorado Furnishes Material for a Letter to The Gazette.

one head

Denver, Colo., June 12.—As noted in your paper the morning of June 4th found my father and self numbered among the passengers en route for Denver. We had a very pleasant ride to De Kalb, where, after ten minutes' waiting, the "Colorado Special" steamed in from Chicago, and we were soon seated and rolling out towards the boundless west.

All the way through Illinois and Iowa the vegetation plainly gave evidence of the backwardness of the season. Towards evening indications of a storm became very apparent, and as we neared Council Bluffs a very heavy rain storm met us. The storm was of short duration but a great deal of water fell.

The morning found us nearing the Colorado line, and a number of hungry passengers were anxiously waiting to reach North Platte, where a dining car was again attached to the train, as the other one had been left at Omaha the previous evening. When one passenger returned to our car after partaking of a plain meal and leaving seventy cents in payment thereof, and another paid twenty-five cents for a couple of rolls and a cup of coffee, the writer was thankful for the forethought in providing plenty of lunch before starting from home.

Our trip across Colorado had been very much enlivened by the wit, humor and quick repartee of several passengers whom we regretted parting with at Julesburg, their journey being by the way of Cheyenne for Ogden.

We were now in the region of irrigation and extensive fields of alfalfa, as well as many nicely growing gardens, certified that the land was far from being as sterile as we had almost been brought to think from having seen nothing from Ft. Kearney westward except a few large herds of cattle browsing on the vast plains on the scanty herbage. All ting, bone needles and many other interesting articles.

I am told that Mancos canon is carefully guarded as the government is making every possible effort to unravel the mystery of this strange and unknown race. I had almost forgotten to mention that in the mineral display there is a silver nugget weighing three hundred and ninety-seven pounds, ninety per cent. silver, which will make 8,212 silver dollars.

STATE BOARD OF PHARMACY.

Examination in Which a Janesville Man Got a Certificate.

E. B. Helmstreet returned yesterday afternoon from Manitowoc where the state board of pharmacy has been conducting an examination. Thirty-seven young men from different parts of the state took the examination and of that number ten were successful, two receiving first grade certificates and eight being successful in passing as assistants. N. H. St. John of this city was one of those who procured an assistant's certificate.

In speaking of the examination the Manitowoc Daily Times says:

"E. B. Helmstreet, of Janesville, who is known as the 'Father of Pharmacy' in Wisconsin, is secretary of the board and who by the way is a most genial man to meet, takes a great interest in the work and claims that Wisconsin has a good reputation for proficient druggists. Their services are sought after in other states. The examination is a most stringent one, but the young men who do not pass benefit by the examination."

The Boys Who Went to The Rabbit Dance.

The moon shone on the open fields until they looked as white as snow, and the wind blew as it blows only on a March night.

It blew a long, ragged branch of the old elm against the window of a small upstairs chamber. Scratch went the branch, like the sound of claws, and Richard sat up in bed wide awake and listened, and as he listened he began to feel a tingling desire to go out into the night world and see what was afoot.

A soft tread sounded all at once on the stair, as if bare feet were coming. The door opened, and Jim looked in, grinning.

"Mars Richard," he whispered, "I givine see de rabbits dance, jes' like granny tell. Is you gwine too?"

Was he going? Richard was out of bed instantly and had scrambled into his clothes in a few moments. They crept softly out of the house, across the lawn and on through the long glen with its beeches and climbed the wooded hill slope.

"Is you scared?" whispered Jim as they passed the graveyard.

"No," answered Richard, "not a bit. But listen! What's that?"

A curious whistling noise was distinctly heard. It was like the sound of a distant locomotive blowing off steam.

In a minute Richard laughed softly and pointed to a spot between two trees. There was a large, reddish gray rabbit, his head up in air, sniffing with twitching nostrils and now and then making the sound that they had heard.

It was challenging some rival at a distance, for presently they heard an answer, and, after raising its ears, listening and scratching or drumming on the earth with its hind feet, it bounded away in the direction of the other whistler. The next sound came from the old garden where they expected to see the rabbits dance, and they crept on in silence.

When they arrived at the edge of the open space and had hidden themselves among the shadows of the encircling trees, they did not have long to wait. First there came a soft pat, pat, patting of furry feet, and three or four young rabbits began frisking and leaping in the moonshine like kittens at play. Occasionally a big one would stop, sniff the air and whistle to another rabbit in the distance.

But the dance did not last long. A stealthy movement caused Richard to turn his head. Before he could cry out a gliding figure with horns and claws and cruel, greedy eyes, lit by yellow phosphorescent flame, darted into the midst of the heedless rabbits.

Two sounds mixed together, a shrill, blood curdling scream of triumph, and a piteous squeal, as from a young cat. Both boys fled, and the rabbits vanished as if by magic.

The woods, however, in front of the boys had awakened into strange life. From the hollows came, as if in call and answer, a curious guttural whoo-hoo-hoo! and whan-han-han! long drawn out. Sometimes the notes resembled an eerie and sinister laughter.

The boys dared not stop or look behind them, but heard a flutter of wings as they ran, Jim to his granny's cabin and Richard to the "big house."

As he gained the porch a window opened, and he heard his father's voice, "Give me the rifle. There is the horned owl again after your chickens. Hear him, like a dog barking?"

Whoa-hoo-hoo!

A shadowy thing flitted across the moonlight, and a report rang out.

His father hastened to the spot and lifted the bird from the ground.

"Fifteen inches across his wings and 22 inches long. He is a big bird. They say he catches rabbits—a tiger among birds some one has called him—and he does not know how to build a nest, but takes possession of any old crow's, hawk's or squirrel's home that happens to be handy."

The next day Richard showed Jim the great owl, which his father was preparing to stuff.

Jim looked at it critically and shook his head.

"That's what we heard last night," said Richard.

"No, sub. Dis is sho' de 'pearance he wo', but 'tain't he! Screeches an howls does ter hide hisself in; dat's all."

Nor could Jim ever be persuaded that he and Richard had not narrowly escaped from the evil one that night.—Ellis F. Mosby in Philadelphia Times.

Baby's Coming

McDonald, Ga., July 12, 1899.

I advise every suffering woman to take Wine of Cardui. While I was going with my other children I was compelled to stay in bed for days at a time, but this time I have taken Wine of Cardui and Theodor's Black-Draught and have been able to do all my housework without any trouble. I am expecting every day to be confined. My husband thinks Wine of Cardui is the best medicine in the world. He takes a dose of Theodor's Black-Draught every night and gives some to the children. He has not lost a day from work this year. He tells his friends about your wonderful medicines and I tell my lady friends to use your Wine of Cardui.

Mrs. GEORGIA LEE.

WINE OF CARDUI

There are thousands of women who shrink in terror at the thought of the baby's coming. But childbirth is one of the workings of Nature and it was not intended to imply torture and agony to the heroic mothers of the race. The woman who suffers torture during pregnancy and at childbirth has usually, by some indication, injured the organs which make her a woman. Neglect of menstrual irregularities leads to ovarian pains, falling of the womb and leucorrhoea, and the period of pregnancy is necessarily distressing under these conditions. Wine of Cardui will regulate the menstrual function perfectly and eventually make the generative organs strong and healthy. Pregnancy and childbirth have no terrors for the woman who takes this pure Wine. A strong healthy womb will bring its precious burden to maturity with little or no pain. A healthy woman need not fear childbirth. Wine of Cardui completely cures all these troubles familiarly known as "female diseases" and equips the sensitive generative organs for pregnancy and childbirth. It will save any mother much pain and suffering. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles.

POND'S EXTRACT

There is only ONE POND'S EXTRACT, and everybody knows its purity, strength and great medicinal value. Don't take the weak, watery Witch Hazel preparations represented to be "the same as" POND'S EXTRACT. They generally contain "wood alcohol," which irritates the skin, and, taken internally, is a deadly poison. Get genuine POND'S EXTRACT, sold ONLY in SEALED bottles, in BUFF wrappers.

Controls Pain Bleeding and Inflammation

Isn't it Worth 25c. To Be Cured of Constipation

People who suffer from habitual constipation with all its attendant ills, clogged stomach and bowels, sluggish liver, heartburn, indigestion, and thin and impure blood, are too apt to believe that the only remedy is violent purgatives. The contrary is the case. Such cathartics, even if they do move the bowels, are irritating and griping, leave the stomach inflamed and enfeebled and the constipated condition recurs with greater difficulty of cure and the sufferer constantly growing worse. There is a laxative that moves the bowels without pain or griping, cleanses the stomach, sharpens the appetite, stimulates the liver, strengthens the nerves, and purifies the blood, while its marvellous tonic properties tone up the entire system and keep it healthy.

Laxakola Does It

Its remarkable tonic properties reach every organ—the liver, kidney and stomach, nerve, heart and brain—and removes the cause of your debilitated condition. This is the only way to secure an absolute and permanent cure.

Laxakola is the only medicine for babies, is purely vegetable and its action is gentle, speedy and effective. For coated tongue, simple fevers, colds, chills and languid feeling it is the ideal medicine.

It tastes good. Children like it and ask for it.

Laxakola, the great tonic-laxative, is not only the most efficient of family remedies, but the most economical, because it combines two medicines, viz: laxative and tonic, at one price. No other remedy gives so much for the money. At druggists, 25c. and 50c., or send for free sample to LAXAKOLA CO., 182 Nassau Street, N. Y., or 356 Dearborn Street, Chicago.

THE NEWS FROM COUNTY TOWNS

THE GAZETTE AGENCY,
W. W. CHASE, Manager.
Milwaukee, Wis., June 15, 1901.

The flag raising at the Vickerman school house today was a complete success and drew a very large attendance estimated at 1,500. The management did themselves credit in the arranging of the event and all who took part seemed to enter fully in the spirit of the occasion. The addresses by Senator Whitehead, Prof. Rhenow of Whitehead and Supt. Throno were excellent in thought, patriotic in tone and possessed the often lacking merit of such productions, brevity. Miss Clarke made new admirers and the music by the college band and Misses Babcock and Thomas was good. The exercises by Miss Shuman's pupils were very creditable to both pupils and instructor, but space will not permit of the publication of the program in full. A picnic dinner followed the exercises and all of the invited guests were handsomely entertained.

The winners in the nineteenth annual field day of Milton college are: Three legged race, Hutchins and Alice; girls' long throw, Alice Holmes; girls' half mile walk, Rogers; ladies' 50 yard dash, Madge Runey; girls' 100 yard dash, Place; standing broad jump, Polan; ladies' quarter mile walk, Madge Runey; girls' half mile bicycle race, Risdon; potato race, Anna Plumb; hammer throw, Platts; girls' putting shot, Alice Holmes; half mile run, Hurley; running broad jump, Place; two mile bicycle race, Frank Risdon; shot put, Place; pole vault, Hutchins. A. N. an Horn, tie; standing high jump, H. Plumb; obstacle race, Rogers; running high jump, Place; relay race, Madison vs. Milton, won by Milton. The ball game between the college team and the Madison team of university and high school players was a farce, the visitors winning by a score of 15 to 3. The home nine never put up a more slovenly game and Madison scored eleven runs on errors, chiefly of the outfield. The college team made two double plays, the only creditable work they did do. The game between the High school and college girls was a repetition of their former game, the High school winning by a score of 13 to 11.

INDIAN EXHIBITS AT BUFFALO EXPO.

Notable among the vast array of superb exhibits in the United States Government building at the Pan-American exposition is the Indian exhibit installed by Miss Alice Fletcher. The exhibit shows both her knowledge of the subject and her artistic appreciation of Indian character.

At the entrance to the exhibit is a case full of Indian relics which ante-date the discovery of America.

To the initiated these are full of meaning. Then the evolution of the Indian under the influences of civilization is told in the systematic installation until the final group, enclosed in beautiful grill work, shows the educated Indian to be artist, poet, scholar and author. This represents a modern sitting room, mainly designed by Angel de Cora, an Indian girl who graduated from the institute at Hampton, Virginia, and is now studying art, her chosen profession, in Boston. The fireplace is a poem in wood.

A conventionalized eagle—The Thunder Bird of the Indian—in dark wood is inlaid on the light panel which supports the mantel shelf. It is placed here because the Thunder Bird is also a type of the Sun, the source of all heat and fire.

Around the entire mantel is a wood carved scroll made up of the sacred sticks with which the Indian produced fire by friction.

In the topmost panel is an oil painting representing a fiery sunset on the prairie.

In the left of the picture is a group of Indian tents through which the glow of the evening fires shine. On a knoll near the center are an Indian maiden and an Indian brave grouped so as to indicate the formation of another hearthstone in the near future.

In this room are articles of furniture, hand carved and inlaid with onyx. This dainty apartment is hung with beautiful portieres woven by the Navaho Indians.

Near the entrance is a column of different colored woods arranged so as to look from a distance like a costly mosaic.

The pedestal has four faces, on which are inlaid mythological designs and symbols of Indian allegories much older than the advent of the pale face on this hemisphere, which can not be interpreted by Miss Fletcher or any other expert in the history or religion of the American Indian.

The capital is as ornate as that of a Corinthian column and reproduces four heads of Moqui Indian maidens, clusters of oak leaves, acorns, etc.

On top of this column is an ancient urn of classical shape, which suggests those seen at Pompeii and the Museums of Greece.

Around the bottom of this pedestal is a reproduction of the well known Greek border. A suggestion of this border occurs on some of the more ancient water jugs, plaques, etc.

The exhibit is in charge of the Indian author, Francis La Flesche.

Franklin Street Pier

In order to let the people of Janesville know exactly how much space there is in either side of the support under the Franklin street viaduct, the attorneys for the St. Paul road will have City Engineer Kerch measure the spaces so there will be no mistake, and the company can have measurements made by some one not in the employ of the road.

It is claimed by many that there is now plenty of room for any kind of a vehicle to go under the tracks at this point and that it is not necessary to put in a new truss bridge.

It is not the bridge that has kept people from going up Franklin street under the tracks, but the wretched condition of the street all the way from Wall street to Ravine street.

The claim that there was not room for vehicles to pass under the tracks was trumped up for the purpose of holding up the vacation of High street.

There is no trouble not finding reasons enough for not doing a thing which ought to be done when the parties interested in stopping the move begin to look around for a motive.

MEMORIAL DAY OF MODERN WOODMEN

TO MOURN FOR THE MEMBERS WHO HAVE GONE AHEAD.

Tomorrow in Every Place in the United States Where There is a Woodman's Camp, Flowers Will Decorate the Graves of the Deceased--The Program in Janesville.

Tomorrow will be Woodman Memorial day, the time set apart for remembering those members of the great fraternal organization who have journeyed onward into the unknown country. Tomorrow in every city of the United States where there is a Modern Woodman of America camp flowers will be placed above the graves of its deceased members.

This custom of observing a Woodman Memorial day on the third Sunday of June was inaugurated a little over a year ago when the annual custom originated in an order from the head camp. The first observance was held last year and the Florence Camp, No. 366, Modern Woodmen of America and Crystal Camp, No. 132, Royal Neighbors of America, its auxiliary, joined in the general tribute of memory to deceased members.

Tomorrow morning the two camps will attend divine service at the Presbyterian church, having accepted an invitation from the Rev. J. T. Henderson, who will preach a memorial sermon. In the afternoon a committee from the camps will visit the cemeteries and decorate with flowers the graves of the deceased members.

Woodmen Attention
All members of Florence Camp No. 366 Modern Woodmen of America and Crystal Camp No. 132 Royal Neighbors of America and all visiting members of either order are requested to meet at Woodman hall tomorrow morning at ten o'clock sharp for the purpose of attending Memorial day services at the Presbyterian church.

A REMARKABLE CURE.

Performed by Prof. Ripken, the Well Known Magnetic Healer.

A reporter for The Gazette while on his usual rounds in search of information dropped in at the office of Prof. Ripken. He found the Professor very busy, but obtained a few minutes conversation of which the following is an extract:

"The secret of my success," said Prof. Ripken, "and the reason I am always busy is that I cure people."

When asked if he had anything for publication he replied:

"The best item I can give you is this testimonial, which I prize very highly. It is from an old resident of Janesville and a well-known veteran of the civil war." Prof. Ripken then produced a letter of which the following is a copy:

"For a number of years I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble. Only those who have suffered in like manner know what it is. The circulation of my leg was very bad and even in the hottest weather my leg was cold. I have been treated by some of the best physicians in the country and taken nearly all kinds of medicine without any apparent benefit whatever. A friend of mine recommended Prof. Ripken. I did not have much faith in him, but thought I would go and see for myself. I felt better after the first treatment. My leg was warm and it has been so ever since. I only took treatment two weeks and am now better in every way. In fact I feel that I am permanently cured. I cheerfully recommend his method to all sufferers."

MARTHA D. MOON PASSED AWAY

CAME TO JANESVILLE WITH HER FATHER IN 1849.

The Deceased Was One of the Original Members of Christ Church, a Devout and Faithful Christian--Funeral From the Residence Next Monday Afternoon.

One by one, like drops of rain falling into the waters of the ocean, the sparks of life flicker and go out. Yet it is the way of all flesh and we are assured that it is only dark to us who are still on our earthly pilgrimage. In the Great Beyond each such spark is rekindled, illuminated, enlarged and made more glorious in the greater light of the Paradise of God.

With the morning's sun struggling to dispel the clouds that obstructed its rays, Miss Moon gave up her earthly tabernacle, henceforth to dwell with the saints in light, death coming to her relief shortly after 8 o'clock.

Martha Desdemona Moon was born in Stephenson, Rensselaer Co., New York, July 4, 1834.

She came west with her father and mother, Benona H. and Betsy Rose Moon in 1849. Mr. and Mrs. Moon settled on a farm just out of town, (now known as the Rooney farm), but Miss Moon went to live with her uncle and aunt, Major and Mrs. Hiram Taylor. They built the house on Milton avenue, one of the first if not the first houses on the hill, and in which Miss Moon lived up to the time of her death.

Miss Moon was one of the original members of Christ church and an earnest, sincere, devout and faithful Christian. For many years she was a teacher in the Sunday school and the men who were her pupils speak of her today with great tenderness and admiration. She was one of those bright, happy, cheerful souls whom it is ever a pleasure to meet and when three years ago she was stricken with paralysis, she lost none of her cheerfulness or faith. She still trusted in the Lord, still enjoyed her measure of life and still had a smile and a pleasant word from an who came to see her.

For the last six weeks she has been confined to her bed, gradually growing weaker, till finally with the same abiding faith and confidence in her Lord and Savior she fell asleep, to wake up in the nearer presence of her God.

Miss Moon's mother died about ten years ago and her father several years previously. There are left to mourn her departure, her brother, Orville Moon of Winterset, Iowa, and her cousins, W. H. Rose of this city, Mrs. C. W. Story of Chicago and Miss Fannie Moon also of Chicago, whose faithfulness during the long days of her illness, will not be without its reward by Him who sees in secret to reward openly.

Funeral services will be held from the home, 8 Milton avenue, Monday afternoon at four o'clock.

VISITS MICHIGAN CITIES.

The Territory Covered by W. F. Hayes is Most Extensive.

In one week's time the amount of travel done by W. F. Hayes, the eye specialist with F. C. Cook & Co., amounts to several hundred miles. Last evening Mr. Hayes returned from a visit to Ironwood and Bessemer, which cities are located in the state of Michigan. In these cities Mr. Hayes numbers among his patrons some of the most wealthy and prominent citizens. In both Bessemer and Ironwood mining is the chief industry. From Michigan Mr. Hayes visited the following cities: Hurley, Ahtigo, Wausau and Rhineland. As an expert eye specialist Mr. Hayes has a reputation that he may well feel proud of. Testimonials by the score are in his possession that have been voluntarily given, which are in themselves the best of evidence of his skill.

TO PAY INDEMNITY BY JULY 1

Strict Terms to China by Foreign Powers.

DATE SET THE VERY LIMIT.

Demand of the Several Nations Will Increase $10,000,000 a Month If the Claims Are Not Settled by Then—Why This Was Done.

Washington, June 15.—China must pay the indemnity asked by the foreign powers by July 1 or the aggregate claim will increase at the rate of $10,000,000 a month. When each country put in the amount of its claim it included an estimate of the military expenses running up to July 1 next. This was done with the understanding that the indemnity could be met by that time. The recent large reduction of the foreign forces in China caused surprise in official quarters, but this reduction is now accounted for by the terms on which the indemnity was made up. With the indemnity settled, each government will pay its own expenses in China after July 1.

Demand Will Increase.
In case the claims remain unpaid, however, several of the governments will submit additional claims covering their monthly expenses after that time. These amount to $2,000,000 a month, according to the estimates of one of the powers, and in the aggregate they will reach $10,000,000 for each month after July 1. It is expected that this will have a strong influence on the Chinese in bringing about a complete agreement before the close of this month. The recent exchanges between the cabinets at Washington and other capitals have not resulted in any agreement on the question of indemnity, and the matter is now committed back to the ministers at Peking.

Diplomats Sure of Date.
Diplomatic officials who are taking part in the negotiations believe that July 1 marks the outside of the period in which the settlement will finally be effected. On this account the departure from Washington of some of the foreign representatives, which has been deferred on account of the negotiations, has now been definitely fixed for the end of this month.

Loss of the Maine Taken Up.
Madrid, June 15.—It is understood that at the meeting the cabinet discussed the subject of claims arising from the loss of the Maine. The cabinet decided that American subjects must address the government of the United States in regard to this matter.

COL. BOLANOS SURRENDERS.

Gives Up at Lipa with Five Officers and Forty-One Rifles.

Manila, June 15.—Col. Bolanos, with five officers and forty-one rifles, has surrendered at Lipa, Batangas province.

The recent battle with the insurgents at Lipa in which Lieut. Springer was killed and Captain Wilhelm and Lieutenant Lee mortally wounded was begun by the Americans. The disproportionate number of officers hit is said to be chargeable to the fact that there were several deserters from the American army with the rebels.

Panay is being ravaged by rinderpest and so great is the havoc caused by the disease that the natives are hauling carts to Iloilo.

Calles, the insurgent leader in Laguna province, has become more humble and now intimates his willingness to surrender 100 guns to Gen. Sumner tomorrow at Santa Cruz and to give up the remainder in three days.

Expires in Diver's Suit.

New York, June 15.—Twenty minutes after Martin Anderson, a professional diver, had descended twenty feet to the bottom of the East river at Twenty-sixth street, for planting a cartridge, men on the scow from which he had been lowered decided something was the matter. There was no movement of the life line. They signalled several times. The response was so feeble that they decided to haul Anderson up. They discovered then that the air tube had become twisted and clogged. They pulled him up as rapidly as they could, but he was senseless when drawn to the deck. His diving suit was opened. A hurry call was sent to Bellevue hospital and Surgeon Kildane was rowed to the scow. He said the diver had been smothered to death at the bottom of the river.

War on Western Packers.

Washington, June 15.—As the result of what is claimed to be unfair action on the part of the western packing houses and their local representatives the butchers of Washington have determined to erect on the Virginia side of the Potomac an abattoir at a cost of about $75,000. This is the outcome of the long struggle between the Butchers' association of this city and the packers. It is said that the local representatives of such companies as the Armour Packing and Provision, the Swift and Nelson Morris companies have formed an organization which has had as its object the control of the retail meat trade of this city.

Taylor Coming Home.

New York, June 15.—Advices from Europe state that more or less difficulty has been experienced in trying to bring "Major" Taylor, the colored American cyclist, and Jacqueline, the Frenchman, together again, and there is little chance of a third match. Taylor has, therefore, decided to return to America, and will leave Europe on June 26. This will bring him here in time to start on the grand circuit of the National Cycling association.

George H. Phillips Is Ill.

St. Paul, Minn., June 15.—George H. Phillips, the wealthy corn manipulator of Chicago, is unable to return to that city by reason of an indisposition which keeps him to his room. Mr. Phillips spoke last night at a Farmers' alliance meeting, which proved to be a failure, and today is ill from the results of the speech. He will return to Chicago as soon as possible.

THE LOSS IS OVER HALF A MILLION

Although There Were Many Narrow Escapes, All of the Guests Are Safe and Sound.

West Baden, Ind., June 15.—The total loss in the hotel fire yesterday was $500,000; insurance $100,000.

Although there were many narrow escapes and nearly all the guests at the hotel lost their effects, yet it is now believed that no lives were lost and that no one was injured. Early details were meager, as all communication with West Baden was cut off for several hours.

Assistance was asked from the fire departments of nearby towns, but on account of the lack of transportation facilities no aid could be rendered.

J. M. Persise of Salem, Ind., one of the proprietors, said at 4 o'clock this morning that part of the building was erected twelve years ago, and they had been adding to it ever since until the value of the property was about $1,000,000. This included the grounds and buildings. There is only insurance of $100,000. Other proprietors are L. W. Sinclair of Salem, who is now at West Baden, and E. B. Rhodes of West Baden. As nearly as Mr. Persise could say there were 250 guests at the place last night. The hotel, he said, had 700 rooms.

West Baden Springs hotel was one of the most famous resort hostleries in the country. It was about 300 yards north of the railroad station, occupying a picturesque and commanding position on the mountain side. The hotel was owned and managed by J. Sinclair & Co., and is said to have cost $1,000,000. From time to time the building has been enlarged by many wings, so that it was a scattered structure, without proportion or architectural harmony of design. It was four stories high and of frame construction, a fact which explains its rapid annihilation by fire.

New Hotel Soon to Be Built.

Within a few weeks the construction of the new Baden-Lick hotel at French Lick, within half a mile of the site of the burned Mineral Springs hotel, will be begun. The plans for the building, which were prepared by Clinton J. Warren of this city, call for a structure to cost fully $500,000. Among the men back of the project are Thomas Taggart, mayor of Indianapolis; Crawford Fairbanks of Terre Haute, L. P. Dickason and W. H. McDoel, president of the Monon railroad.

Twelve Die in Costly Fire.

St. Petersburg, June 15.—A fire at the Galley's island shipyard consumed the slips, the cruiser Witjas, and other vessels, the government and other buildings there and a large stock of timber. The flames also leaped the Neva-Fontanka canal, destroying several military warehouses filled with supplies. According to the Novoe Vremya, 12 persons lost their lives in the flames. The damage done amounts to 10,000,000 rubles, or about $7,700,000.

Robbers Try to Burn Woman.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 15.—Four thieves who saw Mrs. Sadie Fowler of Coverdale street, Thirty-fifth ward, draw some money from the Keystone bank yesterday followed her for five hours to her home and at 2 o'clock a. m. beat her into insensibility, robbed her, and then burned down her home. When she tried to escape from the burning building the men held the doors, but the arrival of neighbors saved her from being suffocated. The robbers escaped.

Fire Wipes Out Town.

Austin, Tex., June 15.—The town of Conroe, in Montgomery county, has been wiped out by fire. Twenty business houses were destroyed. The loss is $150,000.

Jail Delivery in Colorado.

Fort Morgan, Colo., June 15.—Three men, named Harry Stimmington, Stacey and Givens, held in the county jail on a charge of burglary, with the aid of confederates on the outside sawed their way out near midnight last night. Stimmington had secured a revolver and ammunition.

Clayhole Claims Another Victim.

Chicago, June 15.—Phillip Shattler, 16 years old, went swimming in one of the deadly clayholes that have engulfed so many youths. It was out near the Deering Reaper Works. His stark body now lies at the home of his parents, 1215 North Artesian avenue.

Two Engines Demolished.

Marion, Ind., June 15.—A west-bound passenger train on the Pennsylvania lines ran into an open switch in the Marion yards, on which a yard engine was standing, in the afternoon. Both engines were demolished.

Fremont, Iowa, Elevator Burns.

Fremont, Ia., June 14.—The grain elevator of the Fremont Grain Company burned yesterday. The loss is $10,000. Frank Gunn, son of a prominent banker, lost his life in the flames.

WHAT CAUSES DEAFNESS.

The Principal Cause is Curable but Generally Overlooked.

Many things may cause deafness, and very often it is difficult to trace a cause. Some people inherit deafness. Acute diseases like scarlet fever sometimes cause deafness. But by far the most common cause of loss of hearing is catarrh of the head and throat.

A prominent specialist on ear troubles gives as his opinion that nine out of ten cases of deafness is traced to throat trouble; this is probably overstated but it is certainly true that more than half of all cases of poor hearing were caused by catarrh.

The catarrhal secretion in the lungs and throat finds its way into the Eustachian tube and by clogging it up very soon affects the hearing and the hardening of the secretion makes the loss of hearing permanent, unless the catarrh which caused the trouble is cured.

Those who are hard of hearing may think this a little far fetched, but any one at all observant must have noticed how a hard cold in the head will affect the hearing and that catarrh if long neglected will certainly impair the sense of hearing and ultimately cause deafness.

If the nose and throat are kept clear and free from the unhealthy secretions of catarrh, the hearing will at once greatly improve and anyone suffering from deafness and catarrh can satisfy themselves on this point by using a fifty cent box of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, a new catarrh cure, which in the past year has won the approval of thousands of catarrh sufferers as well as physicians, because it is in convenient form to use, contains no cocaine or opiate and is as safe and pleasant for children as for their elders.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is a wholesome combination of Blood root, Guaiacol, Eucalyptol and similar antiseptics and they cure catarrh and catarrhal deafness by action upon the blood and mucous membrane of the nose and throat.

As one physician aptly expresses it: "You do not have to draw upon the imagination to discover whether you are getting benefit from Stuart's Catarrh Tablets; improvement and relief are apparent from the first tablet taken."

All druggists sell and recommend them. They cost but fifty cents for full sized package and any catarrh sufferer who has wasted time and money on sprays, salves and powders will appreciate to the full the merit of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

Real Estate Notes

All competent builders in Janesville are driven with work and have all the contracts they can handle for weeks and months ahead. One plasterer said this week that he could not handle another order for three months, although it was early in the season for his line. The progress of the season is attended by an increase in the plans for building rather than by any cessation.

At present there is work enough in sight to keep all the carpenters and masons at work without a let up for the next six months.

The canning factory is being rushed to completion. The time before the crops will be ready for delivery is already growing short. Mr. P. Hohnadel, the manager of the factory is confident that everything will be in shape by the time the crop is ready for delivery.

The large boilers and vats for the plant are being put in as fast as the carpenters and masons get far enough along with their part of the work to allow the other men to work.

The plant will be a model one when completed, and equal, if not superior to anything of the kind in the United States.

The foundation for the Janesville Machine Company's new building is being pushed rapidly. The walls when completed, will be among the best foundation walls in the city. The new ware house will be a great addition to the company's plant and will also be a good addition to South River street's appearance.

Contractor Cullen is hustling the work on the Jackman block and expects to have the building ready for occupancy by October first. The change in the plans calling for the addition of another story to the building, necessarily lengthened out the time for completing the work.

The building in the property lately purchased by the Janesville Barb Wire Co., are being moved off and the property will soon be in shape for the starting of the new addition which will be 132x132 and built of brick.

When the addition is completed the motive power of the plant will undergo an entire change. An immense steam engine and boiler will be installed and will be furnished not only to furnish power for the machinery, but to operate an electric light plant for illuminating the works, and furnishing steam heat.

The addition to the Grand Hotel is almost finished and the stores are almost ready for occupancy.

The foundation for W. H. H. MacLellan's new store on West Milwaukee street is finished and the balance of the building will be completed as soon as possible.

On account of the opposition on the part of the common council the work on the St. Paul freight station has been at a standstill for some time but will go on as soon as the track question is finally settled.

So far there have been no strikes by the laborers in the city. There is plenty of work for all and the contractors are paying good wages.

Gentlemen:

I enclose you contract for the supply of coffee for the Bailey Catering Company, at the Pan-American Exposition, to be held in Buffalo during the coming summer. ### MURDERED PLANTER BURIED.

Shreveport Business Houses Close for Funeral—Edwards Not Caught.

Shreveport, La., June 15.—The funeral of John Gray Foster, the young planter who was killed at his home by Prince Edwards, a negro, Wednesday, took place in the afternoon, and was largely attended. A majority of the business houses of Shreveport closed in order that their employees might attend the funeral. Among those present were Governor McMillin of Tennessee and Mrs. McMillin, a sister of the murdered man. Mrs. McMillin is bearing up wonderfully well under the trying ordeal. The score of negroes under arrest, charged with complicity in Foster's murder, have been removed to the parish jail at Benton, and there is further fear of mob violence. Edwards, who did the killing, is still at large and poses continue in the field, scouring the country in every direction. If caught, Edwards will be summarily dealt with. The excitement of yesterday and last night has been almost wholly allayed, and so far as the negroes now under arrest are concerned, no further trouble is anticipated.

THE DEATH RECORD.

Chief Sharp Nose Is Dead.
Cheyenne, Wyo., June 15.—Sharp Nose, chief of the Northern Arapahoes of the Wind River reservation, is dead, at the age of 66. He was one of the most bloodthirsty Indians of the west, and many murders have been attributed to him. He was the war leader of his tribe and urged going on the warpath at the slightest provocation. Sharp Nose was the leader of the recent rebellion against the Indian agent at Fort Washakie. His death will have a quieting effect on the Arapahoes.

Railroad Man a Suicide.
Des Moines, Ia., June 15.—Seneca W. Hazard, city passenger agent of the Chicago & Northwestern railway, was found hanging to a rafter in the basement of the city ticket office. It is manifestly a case of suicide, though no possible motive is known.

Gas Used to Commit Suicide.
Cleveland, O., June 15.—George Baird, local cashier for a life insurance company, committed suicide by inhaling illuminating gas in his room. Baird, who was about 35 years of age, came here from Newark, N. J. His relatives live in Montreal.

John A. Tuttle a Suicide.
Hutchinson, Kan., June 15.—John A. Tuttle, traveling freight agent for the Rock Island railroad, committed suicide here. He was one of the best known railroad men in the west.

Hansen Subs on Witness Stand.
Chicago, June 15.—Tears fell plentifully in Judge Tuthill's court. They came from Dethlef C. Hansen's eyes. Hansen was on the witness stand, plaintiff in a suit for $20,000, brought against Mrs. Minnie Wallace W. Ketcham for counsel fees before and after the death of her husband, John B. Ketcham, in 1897. Hansen's attorney, Hugo Pam, explained to the court that Hansen was intensely nervous and that he had not slept all night.

To Study Police Methods.
New York, June 14.—To make a study of the police of this country and their methods of catching criminals, Arthur Carl, chief of police of Bremen, Germany, has come here on the Lahn. He will visit Chief Devery today and talk with him about police discipline. Speaking about the police he commanded, he said they were all graduates of the German army and only the best men were transferred from the army to the police force.

City "watch dogs" frequently become "dogs in the manger."

Way to Gold Mines Open.

Seattle, Wash., June 15.—The Yukon is open from end to end, according to news brought down by the steamer Dolphin, which has arrived. The ship brought down $40,000 in gold dust. The presence of $7,500,000 of gold dust in the banks at Dawson has caused a renewal of speculation as to what the total output of the Klondike will be this year. Estimates range from $15,000,000 to $25,000,000.

Boys Try to Wreck a Train.

Kokomo, Ind., June 15.—Scott and Charles Henderson, cousins, aged 11 years, were arrested here for attempted train wrecking. The lads are sons of wealthy farmers near Cassville and readily gave bond. The boys admit placing a widow frame and chain on the track ahead of a Lake Erie and Western passenger train for the fun of seeing the engine knock off the obstructions.

A marriage license was issued yesterday to John M. Gansell and Elizabeth Zwiggart, both of Orfordville.

ATTENTION

To physical warnings will often prevent a serious illness. When there are oppressive fullness after eating, bitter risings, belching, headache, dizziness, nervousness, with physical and mental sluggishness, prompt attention should be given to the condition of the digestive and nutritive systems. Not all these symptoms will occur at once or in any single case, but any one of them indicates a disordered condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition.

A prompt cure of these conditions will be effected by the timely use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It heals diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, perfectly and permanently. Many diseases, seemingly remote from the stomach, have their origin in diseased condition of the organs of digestion and nutrition. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures through the stomach diseases which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach, and hence diseases of liver, lungs, heart and other organs are cured by use of the "Discovery." It contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, or other narcotic. It is a true temperance medicine.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing else "just as good."

"I was a total wreck—could not sleep or eat," writes Mr. J. O. Beers, of Berryman, Crawford Co., Mo. "For two years I tried medicine from doctors but received very little benefit. I lost flesh and strength, was not able to do a good day's work. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and when I had taken one bottle I could sleep, and my appetite was wonderfully improved. I have taken five bottles and am still improving."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation by curing the cause. They do not begot the pill habit.

In the selection of your coffee, in competition with samples submitted by a number of the largest Importers and Roasters in the country, I have been governed entirely by the quality of the same. My experience with the coffee supplied to me during the past year or so by your house has been so uniformly satisfactory that I feel that I could do no better than to complete this arrangement with you. The amount of coffee which this involves will probably amount to as much or more than has ever been supplied to one consumer in the same length of time, and I congratulate you upon your enterprise in having secured this contract.

ATTENTION

To physical warnings will often prevent a serious illness. When there are oppressive fullness after eating, bitter risings, belching, headache, dizziness, nervousness, with physical and mental sluggishness, prompt attention should be given to the condition of the digestive and nutritive systems. Not all these symptoms will occur at once or in any single case, but any one of them indicates a disordered condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition.

A prompt cure of these conditions will be effected by the timely use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It heals diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, perfectly and permanently. Many diseases, seemingly remote from the stomach, have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures through the stomach diseases which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach, and hence diseases of liver, lungs, heart and other organs are cured by using the "Discovery." It contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, or other narcotic. It is a true temperance medicine.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing else "just as good."

"I was a total wreck—could not sleep or eat," writes Mr. J. O. Berra, of Berryman, Crawford Co., Mo. "For two years I tried medicine from doctors but received very little benefit. I lost flesh and strength, was not able to do a good day's work. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and when I had taken one bottle I could sleep, and my appetite was wonderfully improved. I have taken five bottles and am still improving."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation by curing the cause. They do not beget the pill habit.

of the vehicle, whose only recommendation is "cheap," "cheap," "cheap." Our carriages and wagons may cost a little more than that kind, but they will last years longer and cost less for repairs while in use. They are worth twice as much as the others, but we don't ask it for them. Harness of the same kind. With us it is generally better goods at equal prices.

GREEN BAY MAN HEADS DRUMMERS

Wisconsin Commercial Travelers in Session in That City—Madison Gets Meet Next Year.

Green Bay, Wis., June 15.—The United Commercial travelers owned the city yesterday, as they will Madison a year hence, where it was decided to hold the next state convention. As the reports of some of the officers were not ready, the election for the ensuing year was held, resulting as follows: Grand councillor, M. J. Hemmens, Green Bay; grand junior councillor, C. G. Crocker of Eau Claire; grand secretary, Frederick Vandewater, Janesville; grand treasurer, A. A. Stelton, Madison; grand conductor, E. H. Olds, Appleton; grand page, J. H. A. Lacher, Milwaukee; grand sentinel, R. A. Thompson, La Crosse; members of the executive committee, A. F. Spooner, Janesville and B. F. Hestland, Milwaukee. The reports show an increase of 150 in membership in the state during the year.

This afternoon there was a steamboat ride up the river to Kaukauna, and in the afternoon a trolley ride through the city to Depere.

The election of Mr. Hemmens as councillor of the Travelers gives Green Bay the heads of two travelers' organizations, M. E. Gibbs holding a similar position in the Travelers' Protective association.

Dives 62 Feet to Save Lives.
Columbus, O., June 15.—"Jack" Smith, a former member of the Seventeenth United States infantry, leaped from a Big Four bridge into the Scioto river, a distance of sixty-two feet, to river, a distance of sixty-two feet, and rescued two men from drowning. Smith was standing on the bridge with a surveying party when a boat in the river below, containing two men capsize. The men were in imminent danger, and Smith, hearing their cries for assistance, dove from the bridge and carried both of them ashore.

To Issue No More Bulletins.
Washington, D. C., June 15.—Mrs. McKinley's condition is now such that her physicians see no further need of issuing formal bulletins concerning her condition.

Secretary Cortelyou announced there would be no more statements give out unless there was a decided change for the worse. He said that Mrs. McKinley was able to sit up a portion of each day and that while her progress was slow she was continually gaining strength.

Silica Substitutes Glass.
New York, June 15.—Recent scientific experiments in this city in the manipulations of glass as a medium of invention are interesting experts along several lines of study. Notwithstanding the fact that the knowledge of our time depends largely on the uses of glass, in telescope, microscopy, thermometry, and chemistry, it has been for a long time keenly felt that glass does not by any means fulfill all the necessities of modern research. What the world has wanted is a translucent glass—one more transparent, less soluble, more elastic, and more durable under changes of temperature. This substance has apparently been discovered in vitrified quartz, or, in chemical nomenclature, vitrified silica.

Most Votes for Indianapolis.
St. Paul, June 15.—The next convention of the Modern Woodmen of America goes to Indianapolis in 1903. The convention adopted a resolution, however, giving the executive council power to change the place in case it is found impossible to get acceptable railroad rates. Five cities were named for the convention of 1903, the vote resulting: Indianapolis, 334; Grand Rapids, Mich., 240; Saratoga, 23; Los Angeles, 17; Denver, 8.

Hanna Fills an Appointment.
Cleveland, O., June 15.—Senator Hanna today announced the appointment of John Blodgett of Grand Rapids, Mich., as a member of the Republican national committee. Mr. Blodgett fills the vacancy in the national committee caused by the recent death of William Elliott of Michigan.
